Project Security Scanner (Final Edition)

Overview

- Security scanning tool for source code and project directories.
- Detects high entropy strings that may indicate exposed secrets.
- Identifies .env files and sensitive configuration leaks.
- Classifies findings by severity for better prioritization.
- Helps prevent credential exposure before GitHub uploads.
- Useful for DevSecOps pipelines and pre-commit security checks.

Author: Subash Lama

Role: DevOps & Security Automation Practitioner